Email – expo@northernlogger.com

Show management is advertising the Loggers' Expo in dozens of trade publications in the US and Canada. In addition, a week-long schedule of over-the-air advertising will help get the word out to communities across Vermont, New Hampshire, and New York. Social media is also being heavily utilized for this show.

In addition to these efforts, we can use your assistance. You can place the enclosed Expo logos on your own display advertising, and you can place the enclosed promo posters at your place of business or elsewhere. We're willing to help with your efforts - we can send an electronic version of the logo and/or more posters to you, just let us know.
