Show management is advertising the Loggers' Expo in dozens of trade publications in the US and Canada. In addition, a week-long schedule of radio advertising will help get the word out to communities all across Maine from Portland up to the Canadian border. We're running a special advertising section in the Bangor Daily News that will reach more than 100,000 people. Social media is also being heavily utilized for this show.

Despite these efforts, we can still use your assistance. You can download and use the Expo logo on your own display advertising – find the link at our website www.northernlogger.com. You can display the enclosed promotional posters at your place of business or elsewhere. We're willing to help with your efforts – we have a limited number of additional posters to distribute. Let us know if you'd like us to send you more.

Yes, we'd like to receive extra Loggers' Expo posters -
